

» About Us

PROCEAM provides a broad range of industrial wireless products and systems for process and manufacturing applications. Proceam is a specialist in telemetry technology - sending data and information by different methods. More...

WLAN - Wireless Ethernet Connectivity

Wireless solutions find all their interest in environment where wired network cabling operation is difficult (restricted access, equipments often moved from a place to another, connection of equipments from any place, connection of equipments when no cables, no plugs... More...

» Expertise and Innovation

Special expertise in all aspects of batch production has made Proceam a leading solution supplier to industries such as utilities and energy, telecom, water threatment, etc. Proceam strict adherence to proven methodologies combined with expertise in a wide range of control automation and... More...

WHERE WE ARE »

Industry Applications

Delivering Industrial Control Solutions to Maximize Production Efficiency. When it comes to designing, integrating, and implementing automation control systems experience counts... More...

CONTACT »

Services

From project definition and design through implementation, validation and ongoing support, PROCEAM provides a full complement of services tailored to the specific control requirements of your production... More...